MISS THERMA PARKER'S BIRTHDAY PARTY IS NOTABLE OCCASION

MISS THERMA PARKER'S birthday celebration was spent quietly, for Monday was to be another round of gayety. It started in the morning with a roping contest by thirty-five cowboys which was most exciting and interesting. The skill displayed by the cowboys was to initiate a great wonder and enjoyment. After the boys had covered themselves with glory there was a gentlemen's contest with roping calves, and in this contest was Prince Cupid, Sam Parker, Jr., John Jones, Sam Mousarrat, Mr. McCallister, Mr. Carter and Mr. Hind. Mr. Sam Parker, Jr., won, making the best time, and he looked a magnificent specimen of manhood on his beautiful snowy white steed.

Monday evening there was another ball at Waimea and everyone attended. Inasmuch as Waimea is a populated place it is worthy of mention that eight automobiles were in attendance.

Not since the days of Kings and Queens have the islanders witnessed such a celebration as this. Of course it is not every day that an heiress of so much wealth as Miss Therma becomes of age.

Mrs. Bruce Mackall's Recital.

Musical afternoons, particularly when one can bring together an appreciative audience such as Thursday at the foot of the table was seated Sam Parker, Jr., who has been an able assistant; in the middle on one side upon imparting genuine entertainment to one's guests. One may be sure that one's efforts are a success.

That was what Mrs. Bruce Mackall accomplished with her musical performance on Thursday afternoon. This affair closed the social week very pleasantly. There were over three hundred friends who responded to Mrs. Mackall's kind invitation and among the number who were on the program was Mrs. Alex G. M. Robertson, who has been a pupil of Mrs. Mackall for some time. Mrs. Robertson possesses a sweet soprano voice that is a real pleasure to listen to. Her selections on Thursday were well suited to her sweet voice and pleased everyone. Mrs. Charles Weight has an excellent mezzo-soprano voice and has perfect mastery over it. Her personality is delightful, which mars or makes the pleasure of the listener. Mrs. Chas Hall has a high, sweet soprano and the song in French was captivating, where the credit was due, and said she owed much of the credit of the success of this great ranch to the Sodewick rendered two blessing services. There was some amusement. Mr. Baker's prayer, however, stood unrendered. Mr. Carter made a speech in which he relinquished his right as guardian, which brought tears to many eyes. He said he had traveled pretty much over this world but he had to acknowledge that Waimea was without a doubt or peer the finest ranch of its kind in the world. Mr. Carter wanted the credit to go to the song in French was captivating, where the credit was due, and said she owed much of the credit of the success of this great ranch to the Sodewick rendered two blessing services. There was some amusement. Mr. Howard Hitchcock, as usual covered herself with glory as the accompanist. As no invitations were sent it is not possible to give a list but music-loving Honolulu was there en masse. It is most sincerely hoped that Mrs. Mackall will give another musicale in the near future.
